Wednesday Mrs. Manuel Mascareñas, Jr., and her two lovely little girls spent the day in town from the Buena Vista ranch.

Wednesday Mrs. Captain Hathaway registered at the Montezuma from Lochiel, as did also Miss Hills from Rancho Bellotal.

Wednesday Hon. and Mrs. M. M. Trickey, accompanied by their little daughter, were visitors in Nogales from Washington camp.

This morning Bernard Granville's safe was sold by the sheriff. Cashier Bracy Curtis of the Sandoval National Bank was the purchaser.

If you have real estate of any kind to sell or lease, or want to buy property, see H. T. Sander. Office Sonora News Co.

Mr. J. W. Keen, the well known railroad man connected with the Sonora road at Guaymas, was a guest at the Montezuma Wednesday.

The many friends of Pat Hannah, the O K livery stable man, will be pleased to learn that he has about recovered from his recent serious illness.

Mrs. Manuel Mascareñas, Sr., is visiting at the Buena Vista ranch with the family of her son Manuel, Jr., who is now managing that valuable property.

Fred Becker, one of Nogales' old-timers, has again returned to make his home here. Fred says there is no place quite like the little burg on the border.

Parties in from the Oro Blanco mining district report unusual activity in that district, due to the many deals in mining properties recently consummated.

Hon. R. R. Richardson, W. E. Bloxton and James Bloxton of Patagonia, are today visitors in Nogales where they all have many friends.

We are pleased to report the arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Noon, of a sweet girl baby. Mother and little one reported doing nicely, and all the Noons are happy.

Thursday evening Col. W. C. Greene and Gov. Iralba of Sonora, passed south in Col. Greene's private car "Oceanic." The distinguished party were on their way to Hermosillo.

Typewriting—from dictation or copy. Finished drafts made from rough notes in mining or legal work. E. W. Amsden, district attorney's office, phone 351, after hours.

This week Theo. Gebler & Son, the hardware dealers, made a 5,000 gallon tank for Col. Kosterlitzky. It will be shipped to Magdalena where the colonel is building a handsome new residence.

Tuesday Mr. Henry Ohm, one of Calabasas' well-to-do ranchers, was a business visitor at the county seat. Like the rest of our country brethren, he looked happy as a result of the recent fine rains.

Tuesday Dr. H. W. Purdy went over to Washington camp on professional business. He was accompanied by Mrs. Purdy's Miss Isabel Carpenter. They returned to Nogales the same evening.

Ed. W. Jones has resigned his position at The Parlor and gone to Sonora on a prospecting trip. Ed. is a first-class machinist and he also knows heaps about mining. We wish him all sorts of good luck.

Tuesday Richard Brady of the Brady-Levin Commission company, after several days spent in Sonora, returned north on his way to Tucson. Mr. Brady is one of Arizona's most prominent cattle buyers.

Mr. Ezra Norris is organizing a brass band and as he makes a success of everything he attempts, Nogales will soon have a band of its own. The VIDETTE wishes Mr. Norris and the members of his band success.

Last Saturday in Justice Ashley's court, Jack Stein was found guilty of indecent exposure, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and serve 180 days in the county jail. Thus endeth a nasty chapter in Nogales history.

Alonzo Noon, whose cattle run over in the Oro Blanco district, has sold his entire herd to Turner & Bower Bros. The stock will be placed on their Huachuca mountain range, which is said to be one of the best in the country.

W. J. Kirkpatrick of Tucson has been appointed probate judge of Pima county to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Geo. W. Cheyney. His appointment meets with general approval in the old pueblo. He is a Republican.

Thursday evening Mr. Gordon Seymour of the Torres & Prietas railroad stopped over in Nogales on his way to Long Beach, California, where his father, mother and sister are spending the summer. He will spend a couple of weeks on the coast.

We are in receipt of a copy a Pittock's Directory of Tucson, compiled by G. W. Pittock's, the veteran newspaper man. The little booklet is nicely gotten up and teeming with information regarding the old pueblo. The price is only 10 cents.

If you want a real Favorita Cigar—3 for 10 cents American money, go to John Jund's old stand, now presided over by Pete Cazabon, the veteran saloon man. He also sells three fingers of the famous McBryer for 10 cents American. Charley Castile is head salesman.

A man in Chicago has invented a bullet-proof vest which is guaranteed to stop a Colt's 44 bullet at twenty paces. The vest is said to have been made by a secret process and resembles a heavy quilted silk cloth. The man who wears it scarcely feels the impact of the missiles.

Dr. R. J. Howitt, who for many years has been company physician at La Colorada, was a business visitor in Nogales last Wednesday, returning south Thursday morning. He reported things lively at the big gold camp, five murders having been committed there in one week.

J. F. Burslem, general superintendent of the Boston-Mexican company, owning extensive placer in the Guaymas mining district, Sonora, has for several days been a visitor in Nogales.

Mr. Burslem is one of the principal stockholders in the company and is on his way down to the properties.

The forepart of the week Mr. Campbell, a mining man of Sonora, who has been in St. Louis, Mo., on mining business, returned to Sonora, stopping over in Nogales on his way south.

While in the city he was pleasantly entertained by a number of friends, all of whom were glad to see him.

This morning Henry Sickels, owner of the new dry gold washer which is attracting a great deal of attention, left for his placer gold fields out near the Santa Bibiana mines, the owners of which are prominent business men of Nogales. Next Wednesday Mr. Sickels says he will have his new dry washer ready for a public test.

Yesterday morning Marshal P. Wright, R. S. England and G. C. Campbell of the Mina Verde Mining company, left for St. Louis, Mo., on important business connected with their company. Mr. Jim Fresh, a member of their company, came up from Hermosillo with them, returning south on yesterday morning's train.

President Dew R. Oliver of the Zubiate Mining company spent Thursday night in the city, having arrived that evening from the mines. The gentleman departed yesterday morning for San Francisco, where he makes his home. The big stamp mill is now working and a clean-up will be made about the 15th of September.

Mr. J. A. Spink, for a long time head book-keeper for Proto Bros. has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative one as manager of the store at Camp Hays, the property of the Hays Consolidated Mining, Milling & Lumber company. Mr. Spink is a very competent man, having had many years practical experience.

Hon. Harper J. Cunningham of the Endless Chain Mining & Smelting company, whose properties are in Santa Cruz County, was a business visitor in Nogales Thursday. Mr. Cunningham is also one of the incorporators of the Hermoso Mining & Smelting Company recently organized here to develop and operate the old Hermoso mines at Harshaw.

Mr. Ed. E. Noon, the bright young mining engineer of this city, who for the past six weeks has been visiting in the east, is now in the state of Vermont where he is visiting friends. He says he is having a fine time and will go to the City of Mexico before returning to Nogales. Ed's many friends will be glad to know he is prospering in his chosen profession.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Kane is in the city from Patagonia. He is here on official business, having come down to the county seat to sell at sheriff sale a number of mining claims owned by the Santa Rita Consolidated Mining company, situated in the Santa Rita mountains. The property was sold to satisfy a judgement in favor of J. E. King for the sum of $173.95. R. R. Richardson was the lucky purchaser.

Mr. J. W. Yocum, the prominent mining man, who was largely instrumental in selling the big Cerro Prieto gold mines to the Nogales Copper Company, has returned from the coast, where he has been for a couple of weeks visiting Mrs. Yocum and the children, who are spending the summer at Long Beach. Mr. Yocum enjoyed his outing and returned in fine health and spirits.

Joe Goldbaum, superintendent of the Magdalena Mining company, of which W. Behrendt of this place is the principal stockholder, came up from the mines Wednesday evening to spend a few days in town. Joe is greatly improved in health and reports things at the mine in fine shape. Twenty men are now employed and the property is showing up well. He will return in a few days.

Customs Collector Edwin K. Baker, of Nogales, Arizona, who arrived in the city Saturday night, returned home this morning by way of Douglas, where he went to escort Miss Rosa Reese, daughter of the deputy collector at that point, who is returning from a trip east. W. L. Baker, father of the collector, who is acting as deputy collector at Naco, went to Washington, D. C. last night. He came in to meet his son here yesterday.—El Paso Herald.

Frank Meador, paymaster at Campo Santo Niño for the Yaqui Copper company, is in the city on his way to Phoenix, where for a number of years he has made his home. Work at Campo Santo Niño has been suspended until after the rainy season, when it will be resumed on a grand scale. Mr. Meador says the climate down there is the finest he has ever seen, and he will return when work is again resumed.

Yesterday Court Commissioner R. D. George, sentenced Ah Sam, Woh Sip, Ah Hoy, Ah See and Ah Fot, five citizens of the Flowery Kingdom, arrested Thursday evening by Chinese Inspector Addy on a charge of being unlawfully in the United States, to a free trip to China. The Chinamen were without the necessary papers, and through Interpreter Tom Quinn, admitted they were unlawfully in the country. They seemed anxious to go home. Uncle Sam will pay the freight.

This week Mr. William O'Daly, the well known mine superintendent, accompanied by Mrs. O'Daly and the children were visitors in Nogales from Imuris, their home. They were on their way to New York where they have gone to spend a couple of months, the guests of Mr. O'Daly's family. While in the east Mr. O'Daly will interest capital in his Moctezuma mining properties, which are said to be very valuable. We wish the gentleman all sorts of good luck and a most enjoyable time.

Mr. Charles Roundtree, for many years head book-keeper for the Greston Colorado Mining Company at Mines Prietas, camp up to Nogales the forepart of the week to receive medical treatment for an attack of fever contracted at the big gold camp. He was accompanied by Colonel Hermoso, chief of police at the camp. We are pleased to state however, that Mr. Roundtree, under the treatment of Dr. H. W. Purdy, is greatly improved and able to again be about. He and Col. Hermoso are stopping at the Montezuma.

Mr. Frank Gillett, for a long time passenger conductor on the Sonora railroad, now engaged in the business of ranching near Tucson, has this week been a visitor in Nogales with his family, who will shortly join him at the ranch when he has everything ready for their comfort. Mr. Gillett will engage extensively in the business of raising chickens, for which there is a ready market at Tucson where chicken and eggs bring fancy prices. The many friends of Frank in Nogales and along the line wish him abundant success in his new venture.

Gov. Brodie has appointed Hon. G. O. W. Atkinson of Calabasas a delegate to the eleventh national irrigation congress to be held at Ogden, Utah, September 15, 16, 17, and 18th. This appointment meets with general satisfaction in Santa Cruz county and Mr. Atkinson's many friends congratulate him upon his appointment and commend the governor for honoring one of our most prominent and highly respected citizens. Monday Mr. Atkinson was in Nogales and he said he had made all arrangements to go to Utah. Many of his relatives whom he has not seen for many years live in Grand Junction, Colorado, where he will visit on the trip.

The Associated Press of the 19th inst. says the supreme court of Mexico has just rendered a decision to the effect that General Charles P. Egan and his associates have no title to the anthracite coal fields situated at San Marcel, Sonora, Mexico, and the property involved has passed into the hands of the Pacific Coast Coal Company, in which the Southern Pacific company is said to be interested. General Egan and associates paid $700,000 for the coal fields several years ago, and under the decision they will lose this amount. The plaintiff in the case was Chas. H. Johnson, a resident of Sonora, Mexico, who owned the lands upon which the coal deposits were located.

Mr. J. S. Andrews, administrator of the estate of George Stevens, deceased, is in the city from Old Glory, having business in the probate court.

John Henderson is up from his gold mines out from La Posa to purchase supplies for his camp where Mrs. Henderson and the children are now making their home. Mr. Henderson says the folks are well and things at the mine are in fine shape. He will return to camp Monday or Tuesday.

Lieutenant Richard Fleischer, formerly of Nogales, now successfully engaged in the mercantile business at Hermosillo, came up from the south last night to visit here several days the guest of his brother L. B. Fleischer of the Boston Stores. Dick is always welcome here where he has a host of friends.

Tuesday morning H. Jordan, the efficient and popular agent for the Espee railroad company at this place, was a northbound passenger en route to Pasadena, one of California's most beautiful cities, where he will spend two weeks with his mother who resides there. Agent Jordan has worked hard and faithfully for his company and has well earned a vacation. During his absence Chief Clerk Mel Van Treese will have charge of the company's business at this point.

You can't touch Tom Percida, foreman of THE VIDETTE, with a ten-foot pole. The fact of the matter is everybody about the place from the devil to the editor, is happy this morning. It is a boy, a new, most welcome arrival at Mr. Percida's home last night. Mother and little fellow are doing well and if the fond father don't have bad luck, he will recover. THE VIDETTE extends congratulations.

Monday Ed Kingen, president and general manager of the Santa Ana Mining, Milling and Smelting company will go to Tucson on business. Later he will go to Los Angeles on business connected with his big company. The main office of his company is in Nogales and he will in future make this his headquarters. Men like Ed Kingen are welcome in Nogales. There is plenty of room here for more of his sort.

Yesterday A. M. Conard, until recently assistant general manager of the Hays Consolidated Mining, Milling & Lumber company, shipped a little burro by express to New Martinsville, W. Va. The handsome little fellow with the crate in which he will make the long journey to his new eastern home, weighed over 150 pounds and the express charges were $45. It was consigned to Mr. C. F. Lowther, a millionaire stockholder in the H. M. M. & L. Co., of which he is also a director. While here several months ago on a visit to the company's property in Sonora, the gentleman took a liking for burros in general, and several that he saw in particular, and asked Mr. Conard to purchase a young one for him and express it to him at any cost and yesterday a handsome little black fellow started on his long journey.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powers and their little daughter have been visiting in Nogales. They are at the Montezuma where they have pleasant quarters. Mr. Powers is the lucky owner of the famous World's Fair mine, which is known far and wide as Powers' Bank, and a good one it is too, for whenever Mr. Powers wants a little money for incidentals, he takes out a carload of ore, ships it to El Paso, and gets $15,000 or $20,000. Recently he made a shipment, then locked up his bank and came to Nogales with his little family to enjoy city life for a week. Mr. Powers is a whole-souled, big hearted Irishman and he never is so happy as when he can make his friends happy. He only has one child, a girl, who is the idle of his heart. Would there were many more mines in Santa Cruz like the Word Fair, and many more men like genial Frank Powers.

Thursday of last week Hon. Rochester Ford, one of Arizona's ablest lawyers, died at the home of his parents in St. Louis County, Missouri. Mr. Ford left Tucson about six weeks ago to spend his annual vacation at his old home. The Tucson Citizen says he was in his usual health when he left, which was not robust, nor had it been for a dozen years, he having been a victim of tuberculosis. He was 46 years of age, a native of Kentucky and a graduate of Washington university at St. Louis, in which institution he was for a time professor of law. In 1888 he went to Tucson where he has since resided. He took an active interest in public affairs and was an uncompromising Democrat in politics. Mr. Ford never forgot the responsibility of his citizenship and never evaded a public duty. He was a true patriot and a good partisan. The remains were interred in St. Louis last Saturday.
